

Eureka Street

Our Day Tripper has taken you to Sutter Creek in the past, but this month we decided to explore one of Sutter Creek's many side streets that is often overlooked, Eureka Street, just off Sutter Creek's Main Street. What looks like an ally because the entrance is narrow and bordered by brick buildings on both sides, is a street filled with history, restaurants, shopping, and a quaint B & B. It also hosts two of Sutter Creek's few parking lots, one on each side of the creek joined by a footbridge.

Find a place to park and explore Eureka Street on foot. As you begin your stroll, you will find Cultivate Harmony, located at 16 Eureka Street in an old Victorian home. This little boutique has art that you can wear and share, and across the street is Gallery 10, which features other art treasures. Eureka Street's two restaurants are up next with Gold Dust Pizza on the right and the new home of Bistro 49 on the left. Gold Dust Pizza has both indoor and creek-side dining, while Bistro 49 Sutter Creek has indoor and patio dining.

For those of you who want to make a night or weekend of it, the Eureka Street Inn, located in a 1914 Craftsman-style home, began welcoming guests in the early 1970s. At the end of the street, you will find historic Knight Foundry, the last water-powered foundry and machine shop in America. The Foundry welcomes visitors on the second Saturday of every month.

As you plan your Day Trip to Eureka Street, you may want to visit, bistro49suttercreek.com, knightfoundry.com, cultivateharmony.com, eurekastreetinn.com and suttercreek.org. Make a day of it!
